

Sample Superior Teachers Characteristics

- A superior teacher adopts the attitude that they will do everything in their power to get the student to succeed, and if the student fails, the student may never appropriately lay the blame at the teacher's feet.
- A superior teacher is willing to work with other teachers in the team and put their egos aside. The product, student achievement, is what matters.
- A superior teacher develops positive relationships with students. Teachers must be perceived, by the students, as someone who will help them succeed if they are willing to work.
- A superior teacher is willing to spend the extra time that it takes to promote achievement. Knowing that putting in the time to improve curriculum, instructional delivery, and ones self, will in turn improve the students with whom they work.
